Family Law

Family Law today involves more than just your “Mum and Dad” divorce, parenting disputes and property settlement matters. Knowing the right family lawyers can also help better protect assets in a family business and assist in protecting accumulated wealth into new relationships. Yet often business owners and successful couples do not realise this help was available to them until after the fact.

Instead, if you know someone in any of the following situations - whether now or in the future - please let them know that Murdoch Lawyers may be able to assist them.

Successful individuals in a relationship who...

- ✓ own their business or are in Partnership
- ✓ bring significant property or assets into the relationship
- ✓ are likely to inherit a significant rural property or business
- ✓ have a previous relationship or support arrangements

A Family Business with children getting married...

- ✓ and the children (will) have an interest in the business
- ✓ or there are many children, with many families of their own
- ✓ where there are multiple business owners, each with children
- ✓ where the business needs to survive beyond any relationships

Couples contemplating separation who...

- ✓ want settlement resolution in a conciliatory and time efficient way
- ✓ are looking for flexible arrangements for their children
- ✓ might need to review Child Support arrangements as they are re-partnering
- ✓ re-employment, having more children
